

READY FOR CARMAN TRIAL TO-MORROW

Doctor's Wife to Know Murder Case Verdict Within Week, Say Lawyers.

RUMOR OF NEW EVIDENCE

MINNEOLA, L. I., May 1.—Both sides are ready for the second trial of Mrs. Florence Carman for murder, to start on Monday morning, and the Minneola Court House is being arranged for the fighting, pushing crowd, which will find only a limited space available.

From the office of District Attorney Lewis J. Smith came reports to-day that the prosecution has new evidence and new witnesses—five new and important witnesses—also that District Attorney Smith and his associates will make an attack upon the testimony of Mrs. Carman's daughter and her sister.

Celia Coleman, the negro maid, it is conceded, will be an important figure in this second trial of Mrs. Carman for the shooting of Mrs. Lulu Bailey on June 30 of last year in the office of Mrs. Carman's husband, Dr. Edwin Carman, on the Merrick road at Freeport. The District Attorney has this girl's story that Mrs. Carman entered the house from the rear and in great confusion immediately after the shots were fired. He expects to prove that no one crossed the front lawn immediately after the shooting.

But Celia Coleman is a confessed perjurer and it will be her feeble word against that of Mrs. Carman, quiet of voice and handsome. As far as the opinion of persons living here may carry weight it is that the people's case is weak. Mrs. Carman's lawyer, George M. Levy, said to-day that the defense would be stronger than it was at the first trial, which resulted in a dismissal. "If they have these new and important witnesses," he said, "I suppose we will all have a chance to see when the trial gets under way. I should like to see them first, one, at least before expressing a belief in their existence."

Lawyer Levy said that the District Attorney is welcome to cross-examine Mrs. Carman's daughter, Elizabeth, 14 years old, to his heart's content in his reported intention of trying to break down her story, as well as that of Mrs. Ida Powell, sister of Mrs. Carman. Mr. Levy said he knows that "the child was telling the truth at the first trial." Elizabeth Carman and Mrs. Powell testified that they were upstairs in the house when the shots were fired and that Mrs. Carman was upstairs too. Mr. Levy said he didn't expect the question of Mrs. Carman being surrendered by her bondsmen and taken to her old quarters in the Nassau county jail would come up until Monday.

Associated with Mr. Levy in the defense of Mrs. Carman will be Harry C. Clock, in an advisory capacity. District Attorney Smith will have Charles Weeks and Charles Wood, his associates, aligned with him on Monday morning before Supreme Court Justice Abel Blackmar. It is believed that this second trial will not occupy more than a week, seven or eight days at the most, and perhaps only five.

Another lawyer, James E. Wilkinson of 115 Broadway, New York, has an interest in the case and will be in court every day. He will represent William Bailey, the husband of the murdered woman, and he has been running down clues and confessions which have been brought to Mr. Bailey. He has turned over his findings to the District Attorney.

FIGHT FOR MIRACLE CHAPEL.

Summer Residents of Garrison Oppose Catholic Society's Claim.

PRESKILL, May 1.—Supreme Court Justice Tompkins heard testimony to-day in a contest between the Church of St. Philip and the Catholic Society of "miracles" at Graymont monastery in Garrison.

This was an Episcopal monastery until Father Paul and his monks went over to the Roman Catholic faith. The Rev. Arthur Lowmes of St. Philip's, where Stuyvesant, Flat, Henry F. Osborn, Hamilton Fish, William Church Osborn and other summer residents attend, contends that his parish owns the chapel. Miss Alice M. Elliot testified to support his claim.

Father Paul asserts that his order owns the chapel, where, he says, various miracles have been performed. For instance, one day he claims, the monks sent a weak wayfarer for two pails of water. He collapsed as he lifted the empty pails, but soon supernatural power filled both with water.

Justice Tompkins adjourned the case until early in June.

CLEARY MAKES DRY SUNDAY.

Lid on in Haverstraw Following the Recent Revelations.

Haverstraw, May 1.—As a consequence of revelations from ex-Town Clerk W. V. Cleary's slaying Eugene Newman in Haverstraw, District Attorney Thomas Gagan, it is announced, has ordered the excise laws strictly enforced to-morrow.

Village trustees learned of Gagan's order by accident. Trustee De Witt told the board that Policemen Sherman and Coyne had been seen going into a saloon while in uniform. Trustee Adler, in their defense, asserted that they were compelled to enter because the District Attorney had ordered them to enforce the law rigidly and they were giving notice to the saloon keepers.

MEMORIAL TO MGR. TAYLOR.

Altar to Be Erected in Church of the Blessed Sacrament.

In order to perpetuate the memory of the late Mgr. Matthew A. Taylor, rector of the Roman Catholic Church of the Blessed Sacrament, Seventy-first street and Broadway, the Rev. Thomas F. Myhan, the present rector of the church, has suggested to his parishioners the erection of an altar to hold the chief place in the church.

In order to give the parishioners past and present the opportunity to donate something toward defraying the expenses of building the memorial altar a collection will be taken up to-day at all masses in the church.

"JILTED" GIRL SEEKS $25,000.

Sees Joel Rinaldo of "Home of True Bohemians."

Joel Rinaldo, proprietor of the restaurant in West Forty-first street known as Joel's, advertised as "the home of New York's true bohemia," was sued in the Supreme Court yesterday by Miss Milla Gardner for $25,000 damages for breach of promise.

Miss Gardner alleged that Rinaldo promised to marry her on March 1, 1914, and that as a result of his promise she accepted his attentions. She says that he has refused to keep his agreement to marry her or to support a son that was born to her on February 17 last.
